Cleanups in My Community Map with Tribal Layer
<https://ofmpub.epa.gov/apex/cimc/f?p=cimc:map:0:::71>

The Cleanups in My Community Map provides an interactive map, allowing you to zoom and in and out of areas of interest in the United States and see what contaminated lands and cleanup efforts are near you.

FedFacts website <https://www.epa.gov/fedfacts>

FEDFacts contains cleanup status information related to Federal Facilities contained in EPA's Federal Agency Hazardous Waste Compliance Docket (the Docket).

Tribes and Federal Facilities, EPA Federal Facilities Restoration and Reuse Office (FFRRO)

<https://www.epa.gov/fedfac/tribes-and-federal-facilities>

FFRRO works with other federal entities to help them develop creative, cost-effective solutions to their environmental problems.

EPA American Indian Environmental Office (Office of International and Tribal Affairs)

<http://www.epa.gov/indian>

This office coordinates the EPA-wide effort to strengthen health and environmental protection in Indian Country.

Department of Interior Bureau of Indian Affairs (BAI)

<https://www.bia.gov/service/tribal-leaders-directory>

The Tribal Leaders Directory provides contact information for each federally recognized tribe. The electronic, map based, interactive directory also provides information about each BIA region and agency that provides services to a specific tribe. Additionally, the directory provides contact information for Indian Affairs leadership.

Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry (ATSDR) <http://www.atsdr.cdc.gov>

ATSDR's Office of Tribal Affairs assists with tribal-specific environmental health needs resulting from exposure to hazardous waste sites and pollution.

Department of Agriculture (USDA) <http://www.usda.gov/tribalrelations>

USDA is committed to serving tribal organizations and individual American Indians and Alaska Natives.

Department of Defense (DoD) <https://www.namsei.com>

DoD has a tool called the Native American Management System for Environmental Impacts, which tracks and maintains information on potential impacts on tribal lands from past DoD activities.

Department of the Interior (DoI) <https://www.doi.gov/international/what-we-do/tribes>

The Department of the Interior places a high priority on respecting the government-to-government relationship between the federal government and federally recognized American Indian and Alaska Native tribes.

Department of Energy (DOE) <http://energy.gov/em/services/communication-engagement/em-tribal-programs-indian-country>

DOE's Office of Environmental Management is committed to cleaning up sites that were once part of the nation's nuclear weapons complex. Several of these areas are close or adjacent to tribal nations and impact Indian lands and resources.

Tribal Directory Assessment Tool (TDAT) <https://egis.hud.gov/tdat/>

TDAT was developed by the Office of Environment and Energy (OEE) to help users identify tribes that may have an interest in the location of a HUD-assisted project, and provide tribal contact information to assist users with initiating Section 106 consultation under the National Historic Preservation Act (54 U.S.C. § 300101 et seq.).
