NAICS: 541380. THIS REQUIREMENT IS A TOTAL SMALL BUSINESS SET-ASIDE under NAICS code 541380 (Testing Laboratories), size standard $15M. The Bureau of Land Management's Alaska Fire Service manages facilities that are subject to contaminated site investigations for petroleum contamination. During the course of these investigations, soil and water samples will be collected and will require laboratory analysis and a report of the analytical results to determine the level of contaminants in these soil and water samples. This notice is a request for a firm-fixed-price Blanket Purchase Agreement (BPA) for Laboratory Analysis of Soil and Water Samples. Provide pricing information to include the information requested under header "Pricing Schedule." The Contractor shall furnish all labor, materials, equipment, and supervision etc. necessary to provide the Lab Services for Contaminated Site Investigations in accordance with all the BPA clauses and attachments. The samples to be analyzed are expected to come from contaminated site investigations (for petroleum contamination) and will include soil and water media. The investigation requirements will vary but an estimated minimum number of samples for analysis each year will be 20 samples. Ongoing sampling requirements for soil stockpiles likely will continue for at least one more season and monitoring wells likely will continue for at least two more seasons, depending on results of analysis. Field work requirements are variable and no minimum guarantee of work can realistically be predicted. The period of performance for this contract is one base year and four option years. OFFERS MUST BE RECEIVED BY 5:00 PM ALASKA TIME ON SEPTEMBER 11, 2018. A firm-fixed-price quote will be needed for this requirement. BLM/AFS anticipates a single purchase-order award will be made to the responsible vendor who provides the lowest priced, technically acceptable (LPTA). Proposals through FedConnect will not be considered. It is preferable that quotes are emailed; however, quotes may be mailed, emailed, or faxed to the attention of agaddis@blm.gov.
