F -- AK ARCTIC NWR BIG RAM LAKE SOIL & HAZARDOUS MATERIALS (SOL)

SOL: 140FS126Q0104

DUE: June 7, 2026

NAICS: 562910. THIS IS A TOTAL SMALL BUSINESS SET-ASIDE. The Fish and Wildlife Service seeks a contractor to assess and characterize a potential petroleum spill at Big Ram Lake in Alaska to determine whether contaminated soil and groundwater are present and whether remediation is necessary. Environmental sampling and analysis will include petroleum hydrocarbons, volatile organic compounds (including BTEX and EDB), PAHs, and total lead in accordance with Appendix F of the 2024 ADEC Field Sampling Guidance for AVGAS. The contractor will prepare a site characterization and remediation plan/report for the spill and, if corrective action is required, develop a cost proposal as part of a Corrective Action Plan. In addition, asbestos, lead-based paint, and PCB-containing paint evaluations will be conducted for buildings slated for demolition, with a separate hazardous materials report documenting identified materials, estimated quantities, and associated remediation or removal cost estimates. Big Ram Lake is located in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge in Alaska and can only be accessed by float plane. It is a remote location with limited facilities. There are several buildings (i.e., Cook Shack, Sleeping Cabin, and Outhouse) but absolutely no other amenities. The award will be a firm-fixed-price contract with a period of performance from June 22 to December 31, 2026. OFFERS ARE DUE BY 11:59 PM CDT.

C -- RACMAC - LIMITED MUNITIONS SURFACE CLEARANCE, NOMANS LAND ISLAND, CHILMARK, MA (SOL)

SOL: N4008526R0156

DUE: June 22, 2026

NAICS: 562910. THIS IS AN 8(A) SET-ASIDE. The Naval Facilities Engineering Systems Command (NAVFAC) seeks a contractor to provide munitions response support at Nomans Land Island in Chilmark, Massachusetts, located approximately three miles from Martha's Vineyard. The Navy previously used the island as a practice bombing range from 1943 to 1996 and conducted removal actions in 1998, including the removal of underground storage tanks (USTs), a fuel pipeline, surface scrap metal, and ordnance debris. The primary objective of this effort is to perform a Limited MEC Surface Clearance of accessible areas and to inspect, certify, verify, demilitarize, and dispose of all MEC items offsite at Nomans Land Island. The scope includes preparation of project plans; mobilization and setup; field activities for limited MEC surface clearance; transportation and disposition of munitions debris; site restoration and installation of warning signage; demobilization; and preparation of post-construction deliverables. A site visit may be coordinated upon request. This task order will be awarded on a fair opportunity basis in accordance with FAR 16.505 ordering procedures, with award based on lowest price. OFFERS ARE DUE BY 2:00 PM EST ON JUNE 22, 2026.
